

Restructuring of School Entrée Sizes

The United States Department of Agriculture announced it will eliminate the maximums for grains and proteins in school lunches for the remainder of the 2012-13 school year.

Effective immediately Pomptonian Food Service will restore middle and high school entrées back to their traditional sizes. They are working with their suppliers to make this change as quickly as possible.

As always, Pomptonian encourages everyone to make healthy dining choices and to eat a balanced meal. Every day there will be a variety of entrées available. Your student's meal includes selections from an array of fresh fruits and farm fresh vegetables.

Your cafeteria staff appreciates your patience and understanding as we designed menus that complied with the new Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act regulations in September and make adjustments for the new changes this December.
